PREFACE.

BUTTE, Montana, July 24, 1894.

N making it possible to issue this Catalogue, for the use and convenience of the patrons of the Butte Free Public Library, the incurrence of a great expense was necessary; a cost, which if taxed against the library fund, would have made the publication at this time impracticable. The Library Trustees therefore found it expedient to adopt a plan by which the Catalogue was issued without being a draft upon the library fund, and at the same time give to the public a complete and perfect finding list of the sixteen thousand volumes in the Library and provide the advertising public a medium for reaching the notice of innumerable readers who could not be reached by any other means. The list of advertisers and the character of the advertisements were submitted to the Trustees and by them approved. While no apology is at all necessary for the appearance of the artistic advertising pages in this Catalogue, yet this brief explanation may be proper, as it is a new venture and a slight departure from the usual make-up of library catalogues. There are thirty-one hundred of these lists issued, and it may be of interest to know that five thousand pounds, or two and one-half tons of paper are used in them. The typographical work is the product of home printers, and the book is confidently submitted to the public.

EXPLANATIONS

RESPECTING THE CATALOGUE AND THE USE OF THE LIBRARY.

THE CATALOGUE.

This catalogue contains in alphabetical order by author, title, subject of individual biography and serial entry, all the books in the Library July 1st, 1894, as well as a number falling in the last letters of the alphabet, which have been added during the month of July.

The total number of books Indicated is 15,718.

In the first part, comprising such books as may be issued for home use, besides the author and title, the number of each book is given. This number consists of two parts, that before the letter indicating the class to which the book belongs in the subject arrangement of the library. The letter is the initial of the author of the book, or the word used in place of the author, and is followed by numbers that determine the order of books of the several authors having the same initial, or of various books by the same author. The second part of the catalogue consists of books which do not leave the library, and here, besides the authors and titles, the class numbers only of the books are given.

In all cases in calling for books, applicants are requested to give in full author and title entries as well as the numbers indicated in the catalogue.

HOW TO SECURE MEMBERSHIPS.

In order to take books away from the library one must apply at the main desk of the library for a membership application blank. On signing this and leaving a deposit of $5, a card will be issued which will entitle the bearer to one book at a time, to be returned in accordance with the rules of the library. Should anyone prefer not to leave a deposit, he may take his application blank to some responsible citizen of the county who is willing to become surety for him by signing the form on the back of the card. This card, signed by applicant and enderser, must then be left at the library three days for examination and approval, and, if satisfactory, a membership card will be issued as if the deposit had been made. In order to use books and periodicals in the reading room, the above security is not required. But all persons are required carefully to observe the rules of the library in respect to decorum and the care of books and other reading matter.

OTHER CATALOGUES.

Besides the printed catalogue the library possesses two complete catalogues on cards which are available for the use of members. One is arranged alphabetically and is contained in two catalogue cases. This is simply a more complete though, not so convenient an arrangement of the books as contained in the printed catalogue. If one desires to select a book on some special subject, he should consult the catalogue contained in the case in the reference department. This is arranged by subjects, in numerical order, according to the Dewey or decimel system, which is now in use for cataloguing purposes in about 300 libraries in the United States. The classification is determined by a division of knowledge into its different varieties according to the opinion of the best authorities. The plan of any given subject in the classification is determined by consulting a book kept on the case, which contains a full description of the system. In this the place of the subject will be found in the tables giving the classes and sub-classes in their scientific relations; or it can be determined directly by consulting the alphabetical index, found in the latter part of the book.

It may be of service to those consulting the alphabetical catalogue and other lists of books to mention that if the first part of the number given is between 100 and 199 the book is classed in philosophy; if between 200 and 299 it is in theology; if between 300 and 399 it is in social science; if between 400 and 499 it is in philology; if between 500 and 599 it is in natural science; if between 600 and 699 it is in useful arts or applied science; if between 700 and 799 it is in fine arts; if between 800 and 899 it is in literature, which comprises the classes of poetry, drama and fiction, as well as histories of literature, criticisms, collections, satire, humor, etc.

If the first part of the book number is between 900 and 999 the work has been classed in history and travels, of which the numbers from 910 to 919 are devoted to travel and description. If the first part of the book number is less than 100 the work is considered too general as respects its contents to be referred to any of the regular classes. In the two catalogues some 4,000 or 5,000 cards have been written that describe only parts of certain works. This is where authors of some note have written articles that have been published in a work, but the fact is not indicated on the title page; or, where several subjects are treated in the same book and it has been thought desirable to make the book available for those interested in other classes than that among which the book may be classed. In any case where the word "In" occurs directly before the number on a card, one may know that the article indicated comprises but part of a book.

In calling for books either for home or library use, all persons are expected to fill out the proper blank supplied by the library and to present it at the corresponding window at the issue desk. In addition to the card catalogues, the library has one or two lists of books for the use of those desiring to ascertain the resources of the library and it is expected that these lists will be added to as rapidly as possible. In the selection of books an attempt has been made to secure such as will treat reliably of as great a number of subjects as possible and also to consult as fully as possible the wishes of those who are to use the library. For this latter purpose the trustees and the librarian have tried to obtain from all the citizens recommendations of such books as they are desirous of reading. Appeals have been made both personally and through the press. But believing that many who have not heretofore suggested books will be desirous of doing so, the trustees have been careful to retain a large portion of the book fund for such calls.

REFERENCE BOOKS.

Encyclopaedias, dictionaries and other general reference books are contained in an open case, railed off from the general reading room, where those who wish to consult several books at a time or to investigate certain subjects may have free access to them. A record of the persons using this department will be kept, and a report of the number of books consulted is requested for the purpose of adding completeness to the statistics of the library. In this department, besides general encyclopaedias and dictionaries, are special ones on the subjects of chronology, architecture, genealogy, music, painting, military science, quotations, literature, education, mythology, religion, technology, costumes, science, etc., etc. Various handbooks and bibliographies are also shelved here, and particular attention is called to a set of "Inter-Ocean Curiosity Shop," from 1880-1892, which will frequently give information on subjects not treated of in any encyclopaedias. Poole's index of periodical literature covers an extensive list of sets of periodicals, and will be found useful to consult when a book cannot be found treating of the subject in hand. Of still more assistance, except on very recent topics, will be found the A. L. A. index of general literature, being an index of subjects treated in about 3,000 volumes of essays, collected works, etc., of which the library possesses about 800 volumes.

The Metropolis of Montana

ERCHED on the Rocky Mountains is a city which has already taken the lead among the cities of the Northwest, and which offers unrivaled inducements for investments and for business locations. Butte is the metropolis of Montana. Not only is it the most populous city of the State, having a population of forty thousand, but it is the nucleus of more than two-fifths of the population of the State. Silver Bow County, of which Butte is the county seat, contains one-fifth of Montana's inhabitants, while the counties immediately adjoining make up another one-fifth of the State's population.

Butte Is the most prosperous, the most accessible, the most favorably located city in the State of Montana. Five Railroads make the City of Butte the great railroad center of the State; The Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Union Pacific all reaching Butte directly, while two local lines add to the volume of traffic. The freight business of Butte amounts to five millions per annum.

++++Butte

S not only the busiest city in the Northwest and the greatest of mining camps but it is a beautiful residence city. It has a school system and school buildings of which any city would be proud. Its hotel accommodations are splendid, it taxes low; while in the matter of churches and all moral agencies, such as temperance lodges and charitable societies, Butte is in the forefront, having seventeen churches representing a cost of half a million dollars. The school property is valued at a quarter of a million dollars, and five thousand children attend school within the city's limits.

Its sanitary condition is famed, the death rate being among the very lowest of America's cities. It is provided with a splendid sewer system, an abundant and excellent water supply, and has complete electric light, electric railroad and telephone systems.

Butte's great source of wealth and industry is its mines, which are practic ably inexhaustible. All in, around and under Butte the rich copper ore is being mined. The work of production has but fairly begun.

Of 3,250 mineral claims patented, only five hundred have been explored, and they are by no means the biggest or best. The field is, therefore, most inviting for investment in mining as well as in real estate. No copper mine has yet been opened that shows any signs of weakness. The silver mines are as rich as ever.

The silver production is about $15,000,000.00 per year and the copper production 175,000,000 pounds, and increasing every year. There are also about 50,000 ounces of gold taken from Silver Bow County each year.

BAIN WAGONS are made of the very best materials, by good mechanics, who are paid by the day. The lumber is thoroughly seasoned in open sheds and not dried by artificial means. These wagons are the best painted, most durable, best ironed finest finished and lightest draft wagons made. It is the STANDARD WAGON of this country. No manufacturer or dealer claims to have as good a wagon as the BAIN. Its wearing quality is more than double that of any other, and quality considered, the price is low; hence it is the best and by long odds the CHEAPEST IN THE END of any wagon in the market to-day. ## Music as an Art

Is Making Rapid Advances.

The reason for this is, in former years a Piano was considered a luxury, while to-day people even of moderate means cannot get along without an instrument of some kind, for it is a stepping stone to culture and refinement. Your childrens education is not complete without a knowledge of music, and a Piano is a positive necessity in giving them this. When you buy a Piano buy the best.

Decker Brothers,

Weber and Estey Pianos

Are known the world over, and you can make no mistake in buying any one We will be pleased to have you call on us.

ORIGIN AND CONTRIBUTORS TO BOOK FUND.

The library had its origin in a gift of ten thousand dollars made by Charles X. Larrabee in Nov., 1890.

This sum was deposited with Hoge, Brownlee & Co., subject to the order of W. W. Dixon, when the following conditions were complied with:

1st. That an equal sum should be subscribed by citizens of Butte, the total to be invested in books for a Free Public Library.

2nd. That the city of Butte should agree to meet all the other expenses and properly support the Library.

The second ten thousand dollars was raised by subscription in the summer of 1891 and the ordinance accepting the conditions was adopted at the regular city election, April, 1892. Hence the first donor was
